A subsidiary is an entity controlled by the Parent Company. Control exists when the Parent Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity so as to obtain benefits from its activities. The financial statements of the subsidiary are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases.

Accounting policies have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Company.

Joint venture, associate

Associates are entities over whose financial and operating policies the Company has significant influence, but not control. Joint ventures are entities over whose activities the Company has joint control, established by contractual arrangement and requiring unanimous consent for strategic financial and operating decisions. Associates and joint ventures are accounted for under the equity method in the financial statements.

The investment is accounted for using the equity method from the date the investee becomes a joint venture or associate. On acquisition of the investment, the difference between the cost of the investment and the investor's interest in the fair value of the identifiable net assets of the investee is accounted for as follows:

- a. Goodwill on acquisitions of investments in associates is included in the book value of the investments. The Company does not amortise this goodwill.
- b. The difference between the investor's ownership in the fair value of the investee's identifiable net assets and the cost of the investment is immediately recognized as income when determining the investor's ownership in the results of operations of the joint venture or associate in accordance with the period of purchase of the investment.
- c. Adjustments to the investor's share of the results of operations of the joint venture or associate after the acquisition date must be made, for example, for impairment of fixed assets or depreciation of fixed assets based on the fair value of the fixed assets at the acquisition date.

Under the equity method, investments in associates are carried in the consolidated balance sheet at cost plus the Company's proportionate share of the Company's share of the associate's net assets. The consolidated income statement reflects the Company's proportionate share of the associate's results of operations. When items are recognized directly in the associate's equity accounts, the Company recognizes its proportionate share, as appropriate, in the Company's respective equity accounts.

The discount rate used to calculate the present value of the minimum lease payment for the lease agreement is the interest rate implied in the lease agreement or the rate stated in the agreement. In case it is not possible to determine the implicit interest rate in the lease agreement, use the loan interest rate at the beginning of the lease.
